Introduction

This is a small but very important Surah. It equals to 1/3rd of the Qur'an.

When you recite this Surah in the Salah, do not do so just because it is a small Surah but keep in mind its significance and importance also.

Introduction

The name of this Surah is Al-Ikhlaas (the purification). Whoever recites this Surah with understanding and believes in what is mentioned in it, his faith will become pure and free from any Shirk (polytheism) or any wrong concepts.

Introduction

- It answers the most fundamental question, i.e. who should we worship and who can qualify to be God.
- It was the Sunnah of the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم to recite this Surah along with the last two Surahs of the Qur'an once after every obligatory (Fard) Salah and thrice after Fajr and Maghrib Salahs.

Let us apply the following simple formula to bring this Surah into our lives:

- Du'aa/Ask: O Allah! Help me worship You alone.
- Evaluate: How many times did I follow my desires? According to the Qur'an, following one's own desire is to make it god [45:23]. How many times did I succumb to the whisperings of the Shaitan? According to the Qur'an, following Shaitan is like worshipping him [36:60]. Why did I listen to him? Because of bad company, TV, internet, or just laziness?

- Plan: Remove bad thought, things, bad friends, and bad habits and plan to use the things properly.
- Propagate: This verse starts with “Qul.” We must propagate the message of Islam to others with wisdom and kindness, like the way Prophet Muhammad صلى الله عليه وسلم did. Use this Surah to spread the message of Tawheed and Ikhlaas (sincerity).

مَا شَاءَ اللهُ!!!

Congratulations!
